RICHMOND TRUCK DRIVER HELD FOLLOWING CRASH

CHARGES OF HIT RUN LOOM

Ernest Jenks, 628 Thirty fourth street, and Joe Nesbitt, 219 Eighth street, are in the city jail, Jenks facing a charge of driving while drunk and a possible charge of hit and run, and Nesbitt charged with being drunk. The arrests followed an automobile accident at San Pablo and Macdonald avenue early last night.

G. J. Jentes, 7207 Arthur street, Oakland, told police that he was driving south on San Pablo avenue when his car was struck by a truck. Jentes and his wife, who was riding with him, were uninjured.

Immediately after the crash, the driver of the truck fled, Jentes reported.

Truck Identified
Loren Whitlock, an attendant at a service station at the intersection, told police that he witnessed the accident. One side of the truck bore an advertisement for the Jenks roofing company. Whitlock told police.

The police immediately spread a dragnet around the city. Less than a half hour after the accident, a Richmond patrolman spotted the truck and halted it at Thirty fifth street and Macdonald avenue.

At the wheel of the car, according to the arresting officer, was Jenks, who, he charges, was intoxicated. Beside him was Nesbitt, who is also alleged to have been intoxicated. A search of the truck revealed a small quantity of liquor, police report.

Truck Damaged
The front end of the truck was badly smashed by the crash. Jenks and Nesbitt were taken to the city jail where charges of drunken driving were preferred against Jenks and Nesbitt faced a less serious charge. A charge of failure to stop and give aid after an accident may be filed against Jenks today by Jentes.

Jenks and Nesbitt are scheduled to appear before Police Judge G. A. Odell this morning.

CHILD LOSES IN DEATH RACE

BERKELEY, July 25—An automobile race with death through the streets of Berkeley was lost by a grandfather who was vainly trying to bring his three year old grandson to the Berkeley general hospital. The auto in which the dying child was being carried crashed with another car at Milvia and Center streets.

A passing motorist took up the chase but the baby was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The child, Wallace S. Zierke, son of S. F. Zierke, teler at the West Berkeley branch of the Bank of America, was seized with convulsions while visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Zierke, 1333 Curtis street, Berkeley.

The grandfather was rushing him to the hospital when the car collided with an automobile being driven by Rev. George Petrie, assistant pastor of the Northbrae Community church.

Both cars were wrecked by the crash. Disregarding his injuries, the grandfather hailed a passing car and was taken to the hospital. But the child died in his arms while enroute to aid.

CHARGE OF OFFICIAL ASKED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25—Un- less Mayor James Rolph Jr., suspends City Treasurer John H. Thieler before Aug. 5, Adolph Uhl will file ouster proceedings.

The assertion was made in an open letter to the mayor yesterday by Uhl, who cites alleged instances of misconduct in handling city funds.

Thieler denied these charges on Wednesday and today through his attorney, Aaron Cohen, amplified the denial in an official statement.

Mayor Rolph, who referred to the situation as a "tempest in a teapot," intimated he has no intention of suspending Thieler. He declared that Uhl was using gossip in which "the public welfare is not at all concerned."

"I am assured that only personal considerations are involved in the treasurer's office controversy and I am not an old woman to meddle in affairs that do not concern me," the mayor stated.

"When the treasurer recovers, which I hope will be soon, I will try to iron out the difficulties for the good of the administration. I am convinced now that there is no misuse of funds involved in any way," he declared.

Thieler is in seclusion under the care of physicians at the Whitcomb hotel. He hurried back from his summer home at Lake Almanor when the unexplained resignation of his chief deputy, Ignatius A. Richardson, started gossip circulating in city circles on Tuesday. James Fogarty, another deputy, resigned on Wednesday.

Uhl in his letters declares that he will ask a grand jury investigation into the cashing of checks made out to Pearl Kern, Thieler's secretary, who has been absent on account of illness since last March. He charges that the checks were cashed after being endorsed by Thieler.

The shooting took place in Jensen's automobile which was parked in front of his home, Verne Gillette, 10, and James Gillette, 14, sons of Mrs. Jensen by a former marriage witnessed the shooting.

Jensen remonstrated with his wife, urging her to abandon the suit for divorce which she filed several days ago. She refused. Suddenly Jensen drew a revolver from his pocket and shot his wife below the left ear. He then leaped from the automobile.

The children's screams attracted Officer Cooney and finding Jensen with a revolver in his hand, the officer drew his own gun. Seeing the officer, Jensen shot himself.

An instant later that record like all previous accomplishments of other pioneer endurance fliers fell before the whirling propeller of the orange hued Robin plane as its pilots drove it off into the clouds again on a flight, the will end only when the motor gives in.

The 300 hour mark, which the fliers passed at 7:17 p. m. (CST) had been their first objective since they eclipsed the former world mark of 247 hours at 3 p. m. Tuesday. They have been in the air since 7:17 a. m., Saturday, July 13.

The Girl Who Made Good

ONCE upon a time there was a girl from Down East with all the tireless energy, capacity for self-denial, far-sightedness and keen wit of her Yankee ancestors, who helped to found America.

Unlike many lucky girls of to-day, she had no college education handed her on a platter—she didn't spend carefree, jolly summers at camp—she didn't "come out" in the winter and attend a gay succession of dances and week-end parties. Instead, she went to work at the age when many girls are doing these pleasant things. She had first gone to business school, to learn stenography and typing. Then she got a job, a simple, down-in-the-rut job as a stenographer in a book publishing house. Thousands of girls take such jobs to-day—make good at them, but at nothing beyond them—go just so far and no farther.

But, quite simply and honestly, she found her fun in her work. She "got a kick" as the youngsters say today, out of performing that most subtle and delicate feat of mind-reading—"knowing what readers want." She read their letters eagerly, she read their contributions hopefully. She studied the effective use of pictures. She measured and counted out the problems of make-up. She wasn't wearied with long hours, or bored by dull details. Or made nervous and irritable by the temperamental dissonances always to be found in an office. She watched no clock, she took her work home with her on occasion. She did the copybook things at which brilliant young starters, who are not stayers, ever fail. Yet she didn't get into the rut of conscientious routine, worn smooth by the world's faithful Dobbies. Because, for all her intensive toil, she never lost the edge of her intelligence. Her keen blue eyes never lost the long view of the future. And so of course she succeeded—how could she help it? She became the brilliant and influential editor of one of the most important women's magazines in America. She has been, and is, the only woman to hold such a post.

For this is a true story, and its heroine is Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the woman's Home Companion.

And newly elected Vice President of the great company which publishes this and other magazines.

Heaven it seems to us, is a truly sane and inspiring instance of the successful woman.

An instance which should encourage ambitious girls to make good.

As one woman whose liking for Miss Lane is as strong as our admiration, we think it should go on the record.

That, at the climax of her achievement, she remains a woman of rare simplicity, sincerity and gracious poise.

A woman utterly without affectation or pomposity or snobishness.

A woman with a refreshing frankness, an unerring sense of justice, a keen and delightful sense of humor.

A woman whose directness of thought and purpose, whose gift for knowing her own mind and standing by its decisions.

Make other women delight to work for her.

A woman always ready to give fairest dealing and friendliest encouragement to these women.

A woman whose success as an editor has never yet made her forget to be a success as a WOMAN.

As daughter, employer and friend—and this, if you ask us, is the finest distinction of all.

ANOTHER HOUSEHOLD IMPROVEMENT

THE latest wrinkle in progress is suggested by the editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. Because motor traffic has made the front part of a residence a rather unpleasant place, Mr. Schuler predicts that in the future homes will have the kitchen in front and the living room facing the back yard.

That might be a good idea—having the kitchen contiguous to the sidewalk. And when it comes about we should like to predict that millions of American wives will never be in the front part of the house.

We should hate to be engaging a general maid, however, when our houses are built back side to the street. And when the future employment bureau inquisitions would run along the line:

MRS.—Your references are satisfactory. Dear, and you may report for work next Monday morning.

MAID—That's very sweet of you, Mrs. Blech, but now let me see if you will do. Of course I get every Thursday and every other Sunday off.

MRS.—Certainly.

MAID—And the use of the telephone for long and long distance calls.

MRS.—Why I suppose so—if you insist.

MAID—And I don't have to answer the doorbell except when my boy friend calls.

MRS.—All right then—don't.

MAID—And now, how about the kitchen?

MRS.—I'm glad you asked me that, Dear. We have one of these very modern homes with the living room facing the back yard and the kitchen looking right out on the street.

MAID—That means I'll have to have Tuesday and Friday afternoons off, too, to recover from carbon monoxide gas.

MRS.—I don't think that's necessary, Dear. But, of course, if you're insistent.

MAID—Well, I certainly am! You can't expect me to be slaving in the kitchen all week and not get some relief from motor exhausts.

MRS.—Very well, then.

MAID—Now another thing. As long as I've got to walk the street while I'm working in the kitchen, how about the cop on the beat? I mean, what does he look like?

MRS.—Oh, Officer Mulligan is very handsome.

MAID—That sounds a bit more encouraging. And will the letter carrier and iceman continue calling at the front door?

MRS.—I think we can arrange it.

MAID—That's good, too. Now there's only one more point I want settled. When the boy friend called at all my other places we were accustomed to sitting on the back steps.

MRS.—Then what a happy change this will be for you, Dear. Now you and your young man can enjoy the front steps.

MAID—Yeah! In plain sight of every one that goes by. That's just what we don't want, Mrs. Blech. If you want me to work for you, why mightn't you have the use of the back door steps and your family can move into the kitchen.

MRS.—Well, er—I don't know how Mr. Blech would relish it, but—er—well, anyway, that will be all right.

MAID—That's fine, Mrs. Blech. I think you'll do. And, oh, I forgot to tell you—my boy friend calls Monday, Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

We are not sure the Ladies' Home Journal proposal will work out. However, there is the germ of a good idea in it. And if putting the living room in back and the kitchen in front proves satisfactory, we move that another rearrangement should place the garage on the front lawn, the radio in the corner and the furnace shovel next to the radiator's bedroom—for the winter season, at least.

Secretary Davis Nominated as Winner in "Strangest Ambitions of Men" Contest—Made Million Out of Moose and Wants to Be Governor

Contests of every imaginable type being the order of the day, I propose one of the Strangest Ambitions of Men, and proceed to nominate the winner, here and now—James John Davis.

He came to the United States at the age of seven. He came via steerage, and on the crossing was about the biggest nuisance of six children a Welch mother was bringing over to rejoin a husband and father who had preceded them by a year.

At eleven he was working in a steel mill at Sharon, Pa., learning the trade of puddler. He had a hard life and he made the most of it.

From Sharon to Mooseheart was a rough road and none but the "Jim" Davis brand could have endured the hardships thereof without tossing the sponge somewhere along the route between Pittsburgh, Pa.; Birmingham, Ala.; or Elwood, Ind.

At forty-three he heard of a fraternal organization called the Loyal Order of Moose and joined it and at forty-four he was director general of it and is to-day. He increased its membership from almost nothing at all to over a million and established philanthropic enterprises for children which must command the admiration of all men. Meantime, they say, "Jim" Davis took a commission of a dollar a head on all new memberships and two facts a million new members netted him a ranking as a millionaire.

No one in Washington ever heard of "Jim" Davis before his name was announced as the Secretary of Labor in the Harding Cabinet. Senator "Jim" Watson of Indiana, who gets precious little credit for the things he does in politics and a lot of criticism for things he does not do, is held by those who know with having put Davis into the Cabinet.

WATSON HAD A THEORY

There was a good story about that too.

Watson had a theory about naturalization of all immigrants. He believed they should be registered on arrival at Ellis Island and the fear of God put into their hearts to report regularly at designated posts of the Labor Department.

"Jim" Davis had a better idea. The Labor Department would have the law require those newcomers to report at stated periods but there would be instruction in Americanization whereby the prospective citizen would be taught that the only real way of becoming rich quick in the United States was to vote the Republican ticket in fair weather and foul and vote no other.

"We'll get 'em to be good Americans and while we're at it we'll make good Republicans of them," was a statement attributed to "Jim" Davis soon after "Jim" Watson had him in the Harding Cabinet.

For some inexplicable reason Davis wants to be Governor of Pennsylvania. It assumes the scope of a consuming ambition with him.

The Pennsylvania Republicans who profess to be in the know tell me Davis has no chance. I would believe them under ordinary circumstances and bet my money on their judgment, except for the factor of the Davis Luck.

HAD THE BEE IN 1925

Davis had the Pennsylvania gubernatorial bee in 1925. It so happened

Hoover Cabinet when Mr. Hoover tried every way in the world to find some one to succeed Davis as a topic of conversation in the club car of a Capitol Limited train, Chicago bound, early in March.

Charles C. Daves, sojourning now in London, declared that of all the people he had encountered in official life in Washington he had found none more delightful than "Jim" Davis and Mrs. "Jim."

TWO WHOLESOME PEOPLE

"They are just about the most wholesome people in Washington," the retiring Vice President said. "They are real, they are natural, there is no fake about them."

Having been a Daves "fan" for a long time because of a belief the General and the patient Mrs. Daves were just about all that I was told that the Secretary and Mrs. Daves were, I became a defender of "Jim" Davis.

There are those who say he carries vanity to novel extremes.

For example, the radio broadcasting station at Moose headquarters at Mooseheart instead of being labeled WLOM—to convey the Local Order of Moose into the called WJJD to advertise James J. Davis.

He has adhered religiously to the "J" theme in the naming of his numerous progeny. There is James J. Jr., Jane, Jean, Joan and Jewell.

Col. E. B. Bradley sinks about $100,000 a year in his racing stable out of the profits of his Palm Beach winter casino and is entitled to begin the names of all his race horses with a "B." Just what the psychology of a Moose in politics is about carrying the "J" to such extremes is not explained, but if "Charley" Daves says "Jim" Davis is O. K. a lot of Washington people are willing to overlook the emphasis of his political hirlings on the fact that he has shattered records in having been in the Cabinets of three Presidents while overlooking the fact that Andrew W. Mellon has served just as long, just as numerously and has the power of keeping Mr. Davis in the Labor Department as a substitute for the Governor's chair at Harrisburg.

MIGHT BE GOOD EXECUTIVE

The Daves recommendation would indicate to me that Davis might make a really worthwhile Governor at Harrisburg. The boys who are close to "things as they is" in Pennsylvania, say there is no chance.

The circumstances whereby Mr. Davis was retained in the Cabinet will be a great story someday. Mr. Hoover desired a man on whom labor leaders could agree, but saw to it that there would be no unanimity of opinion on "Davey" Robertson.

The Hoover hope was William N. Doak, legislative agent of one of the railroad brotherhoods, but Doak, who got to first base in the indorsement of the union groups which Mr. Hoover thought might be most advantageous to have on his side in any industrial controversy of national significance.

Should "Jim" Davis resign from the Cabinet on March 4, 1930, as the "gentleman's agreement" is supposed to provide, William N. Doak would be a mighty good choice in the future betting.

When Frank Sartwell wrote a book called "The Iron Puddler" under the nom de ghost of James J. Davis, Washington cynics dubbed the literary endeavor "Jim" the Muddler.

There has been a popular resentment here against the "muddler" dissonance, until it became established the puddler had elected to meddle in Pennsylvania politics.

If what the professionals in Keystone Republicanism say is true, "Jim" Davis ought to rest on the honoree bestowed the steerage by from Welch and not risk closing an admirable career with a slap in the face.

What Society Is Wearing

SLEEVELESS DRESS WORN BY MRS. ST. GEORGE SIMULATES PRINCESS THEME

By HELEN WORDEN
Copyright Press Publishing Co.
(New York World 1929)

A diverting little washable silk dress is worn by Mrs. St. George in the accompanying picture.

Among other interesting features it boasts the new, low square neckline which in this instance is softened by ribbon ties of matching material.

The dress is one piece, cut with the usual pleated skirt—small inverted box pleats furnish the additional width. A narrow belt defines the normal waistline which is further emphasized by the fitted lines of the bodice, simulating the princess theme.

For accessories Mrs. St. George has chosen a wide brimmed straw hat with a single strand of pearl beads, white chambray gloves, nude silk stockings and light kid sport sandals.

Mrs. St. George who is photographed with her prize-winning started is deeply interested in sports and attends the dog as well as the horse shows.

The next event on the sports calendar of importance to lovers of horseflesh is the approaching Westport Horse Show.

It is safe to assume that Mrs. St. George will be one of the spectators, not participants. One of her entries this season is a S. Steel, a great big gray gelding which is usually ridden by little Priscilla St. George her young daughter.

Man Saved From Jail By Smile

OAKLAND, July 25.—UP.—The next time someone asks John Porter, laborer, what his name is, he's going to spell it.

It all happened because Mrs. Bessie May Potter couldn't find her husband to make him support their minor child.

She enlisted the aid of the sheriff's office, saying she had a clue that he was working on a gas main near Alvarado. Driving to the scene of the work she suddenly cried: "There he is."

Thereupon the deputies approached Potter and asked him if his name was "Potter."

Misunderstanding the pronunciation, he acknowledged identification, but quickly began to ask questions in turn when he was informed he was under arrest for failure to provide.

And there the matter stood for a few minutes, until Mrs. Potter had a bright idea.

"Smile for me!" she commanded.

"Lady, I'm not your husband so I won't mind doing that," said Porter, and broke into his best possible grin.

"No, that's not him," said Mrs. Potter to the officers. "My husband has a gold tooth in front. This man hasn't."

For the first time in 41 years Robert Roberts, assistant yardmaster at the Santa Fe yards met his brother, Charles Roberts, recently.

While Roberts was at work at the local shops, a stranger walked in.

The brothers had parted in Kansas when Bob Roberts was 14 and his brother was a baby. After the death of their mother, the children separated.

Two brothers and a sister of Robert are living in Los Angeles. For years they believed that their brother was dead. Then by chance they learned through a friend that Robert lived in Richmond. So Charles hurried here to see his brother.

State Leads In Wage Collections

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—UP—Hats of the California as a collection agency.

A report just issued by Walter G. Mathewson of the labor commission shows that the department collected $1,200,547 during the last year in wages for employees.

This sum exceeds that collected by a state agency anywhere else in the United States, Mathewson claims.

The commission attends to proper enforcement of 42 different labor laws, but finds that 88 percent of its recorded business is the collection of wages in disputes between employer and employee. Over 2000 complaints are received monthly.

The "delayed pay day" once an evil, has been removed as a source of trouble in California under a rule that employers must pay salaries at least semi-monthly, except those employing domestic labor, or suffer a penalty of $10 for every pay day missed.

REPORTS GIVEN ON MENTALLY ILL VETS

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 25.—

Reports from two states, Maryland on the Atlantic seaboard, and Washington on the Pacific, were made public today by the American Legion, which is endeavoring, in conjunction with the state authorities and the Veterans' bureau to determine the acute need of congress providing additional hospital construction to care for the increasing list of mentally ill war veterans.

The reports from these widely separated states were chosen to show the generally serious situation confronting the World War disabled.

In the state of Washington, according to a report to the Legion, there are thirty-one cases awaiting hospitalization. The greater part of these cases are hospitalized in state institutions, according to the Legion's state service officer who asserted that these men should be in government hospitals to receive the proper treatment.

Under the World War Veterans' act, 1924, as amended in Section 202 Paragraph 10, all veterans mentally ill, as well as a few

Member Of Cabinet Set

MISS WINIFRED CLYNES, whose father, J. B. Clynes, holds portfolio of Home Secretary in new Labor cabinet of England.

other classes of disabled, are eligible to treatment and care in government hospitals, regardless of whether they can trace their illness to war service, but no beds are available.

In Maryland there are 26 veterans awaiting government hospitalization and treatment for mental illness. Of these 26, there are eight who have service connected disabilities, and 18 who cannot prove their illness was caused in the war. There are 15 white veterans, 10 negro men and one white woman on the list.

There is a marked difference in the type and kind of treatment given mental patients in the U. S. Veterans' hospitals and the state and civil institutions. This has largely come about through the great study and facilities afforded the government doctors in handling the cases of war veterans.

To enable the veteran to make an economic adjustment and, if possible, to again become a self supporting member of society, is the aim behind the treatment being given the neuropsychiatric veteran in the government hospitals.

Also, the government compensates the veteran for the economic loss which he sustains by reason of his disability, and this, in a large measure, has enabled families to be kept together, with the consequent easing of the veterans' mind and has worked for better results in the treatment accorded him in the hospitals.

Out of the World War experience, and also the post war experience, the Veterans' Bureau has built up a large fund of knowledge, which is reputed to be the most reliable and extensive in the country as regards veterans and war disabilities. The establishment of diagnostic centers, with the bringing together of the best medical brains and skill, has solved the problem for many veterans and enabled them to regain their places in the business world, through receiving the right attention and the right treatment.

The American Legion is endeavoring to obtain for all mentally ill veterans this government treatment which congress intended should be made available to them.

SECRETS TOLD BY PHYSICIANS

OROVILLE, July 25.—UP—In a speech before the Rotary club here, Dr. N. T. Kolbe, of Chico, made the declaration that men in the medical profession "can't be square with patients and make a living."

Among other "secrets" revealed by the doctor were:

1. That 85 percent of the patients would get well if nothing were done for them.

2. That this big percentage in favor of recovery makes it possible for any "good salesman" to get by as a healer.

3. That worry about financial things makes many sick whereas confidence in themselves would cure them.

4. That nine out of every 10 persons with appendicitis would get well without an operation, but you can't tell which is the one who would die.

Condemned Man In Life Fight

SAN QUENTIN, July 25.—(UP)—Final efforts by Russell St. Clair Beltzel to prevent his execution for the slaying of Barbara Mauger scheduled at this prison for a week from Friday were started.

Beltzel wrote a letter to District Attorney Byron Fitts of Los Angeles and claimed Miss Mauger was still alive. He said the ring found on the body of the woman presumed to be Miss Mauger was not inscribed and there were signs of dental work. He contended the ring he gave the woman bore his initials and she had never employed a dentist.

DUNDEE LOSES FIGHT ON FOULS

FAIRGROUNDS, DETROIT, July 25.—(U.P.)—Jackie Fields, Pacific coast welterweight and recognized by the National Boxing association as the world's champion, tonight clinched his title by winning from Joe Dundee on a foul in the second round of their championship bout.

Fields was winning by a wide margin and had floored Dundee twice in the second round when the Baltimore Italian rushed madly in and landed two low blows in succession.

Fields went to the canvas writhing in pain and the judge awarded him the decision on a foul.

Dundee, who was still recognized by states outside the National Boxing association as champion before tonight's bout, was completely out on his feet when the low blows were landed. He had just taken a six count and then a count of seven and was reeling along the ropes when he suddenly lurched toward Fields with both arms swinging.

As the first low blow, a right was swung, Fields fell back, obviously in misery. The crowd groaned as Dundee staggered off, swinging again, this time with his left. The blow landed in Field's groin and the Pacific coast lad fell prostrate.

The record crowd of 30,000 fans paid an estimated $175,000 to witness what proved to be a poor battle.

Gov. Fred E. Green and the Michigan state boxing commission were at the ringside.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, who promoted the bout, announced prior to the start that he had signed Jimmie McLaughlin of New York to meet the victor.

A tremendous cheer went up when Fields, hanging to his manager, left the ring.

Buy One, Get One Sale Planned By Western Auto Co.

The week starting July 28 has been designated by the Western Auto Supply company as the week for their annual "Buy one get one free" offer according to an announcement from C. J. Johnson, local manager.

"This is Western Auto's talked of sale," said Johnson, "and it was so well received by automobile owners last year that we decided to make it an annual event. The real purpose of the sale is to acquaint every car owner with the many advantages of buying at Western Auto. We want every motorist to know the values that brought car owners flocking to our stores last year for more than 6,000,000 individual purchases."

"It is more than worth the loss we are taking, in this offer to acquaint new customers with the every day values offered by our stores and to introduce to them the many products sold by our company. Future sales will more than repay us, we believe, as every buyer will be so well satisfied with his purchase that he will continue to use the product he purchased and will tell his friends of his discovery."

"With each purchase of one of the sale items, the buyer will receive an extra one with our compliments. We know from past experience that it makes a decided hit with the car owner when he finds that by purchasing one article Western Auto makes him a present of another without cost."

his is not a special lot of goods purchased for a sale but is our standard quality taken from our regular stock.

Articles that are usually purchased in pairs such as step plates, sponges, seat covers, cushions, polish and cleaner will be sold at our regular low price and the buyer will be given one article with each one he buys.

Other items include Springeez, cigar lighters, flashlights, dust cloths and brake lining, which are included in the sale are always in great demand."

PARADE TO BE HELD DURING WHARF FETE

While arrangements are crystallizing for the formal dinner on Aug. 6, at the Berkeley Country Club in recognition of the completion of the Parr Richmond Terminal, plans are rapidly going forward for the second big event on Richmond's calendar—the public dinner, program, and celebration on Sept. 14 at the terminal itself.

At a meeting yesterday of the dinner committee headed by J. A. McVittie it was decided to hold a street parade at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 14, a reception at the terminal at 4; motion pictures from 4:30 to 5 o'clock, dinner at 6:30 at the Hotel Carquinez and dancing at the terminal from 9 o'clock to midnight.

T. M. Carlson, city attorney, is to act as toastmaster at the dinner. McVittie's committee on the dinner includes E. B. Bull, Ralph H. Bergen, Aubrey Wilson and W. W. Scott.

Frank Chandler is chairman of a special committee in charge of the details of the celebration at the terminal.

The Sept. 14 affair follows the formal dinner at the Berkeley Country Club at which local men and women and rail and water shippers as well as outstanding citizens from many walks of life will be present.

According to Joseph Brooks, general chairman of the Aug. 6 dinner, acceptances are being received rapidly and it will be necessary for local people to reserve at an early date if they are to be sure of securing places.

STATE WARS ON PUNCTURE VINE

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—UP—Caltrop, commonly known as the puncture vine, the noxious weed which has necessitated an annual appropriation in excess of $100,000 to control, first appeared in California in 1903, according to statements prepared by the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau.

The seed was believed to have come from the Mediterranean region in ship ballasts. It flourished in the warm climate of this vicinity and by 1912 presented a menace to agriculture throughout the southland, the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Its spread was facilitated by railroad shipments of various produce. Infestations of the weed which started in the headwaters above agricultural districts were spread by floods to the rich bottoms in short order.

Such an instance resulted from the St. Francis dam disaster of a year ago. Puncture vine infested the area in the vicinity of the dam and the flood waters carried its seed to the lower country, where it now is a threat of considerable magnitude to alfalfa and truck products along the Santa Clara river.

Concerted efforts are being put forth throughout the state to exterminate the weed. Oil is used, men are hired to cut and burn it, and the railroads have continually fired their rights of way in an attempt to keep it within bounds. At present, the Caltrop shows no excessive spread but will infest the greater part of California's rich agricultural land.

Inquest Held In Train Death

Actors' Equity Suspends Seven

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—Seven more members of the Actors' Equity association were suspended today. They are: Norman Trevor, Phillip Smalley, Nita Martin, R. D. O. Hattwell, Harry Helser, Martha Mattox and Helen Gilmore.

Three members of the Chorus Equity were also suspended, making a total of 10 members to be suspended in the seventh week of an effort the organization has made to organize the motion picture industry.

A $1.25 to Bid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

YOU hear a lot of talk and read many statements nowadays, about how many millions of this or that tire have been sold... and why. These statements fail to point out, however, that a large percentage of all these tires are sold as "factory equipment" on popular makes of automobiles. In other words, the motorist himself has had very little to say about selecting the tire equipment of the new car he buys.

When these same motorists, however, have an opportunity to study tire quality and tire values for themselves, the story becomes somewhat different!

Take, for example, the popularity of RIVERSIDES among car-owners. This famous tire was introduced to the American public 18 years ago. Since that time RIVERSIDES have been sold to many millions of motorists throughout America. A great majority of these tires have been sold on merit alone—without any high-pressure salesmanship. And they were bought on just three points: the splendid reputation of Montgomery Ward & Co.—the definite mileage guarantee under which RIVERSIDE Tires have always been sold—and the recommendation of millions of satisfied users.

Facts like these cannot be disputed or ignored. They explain why RIVERSIDE Tires occupy a place among the leaders of the industry—and it is because of these facts that we make the claim, and back it with our guarantees, that RIVERSIDES are THE EQUAL OF ANY TIRE MADE, regardless of price. This statement we are anxious to have you prove to your own satisfaction—on your own car—the next time you are in the market for tires.

In the matter of price, RIVERSIDES, of course, save you money. Compared with the five or six other leading makes of equal quality, for example, your savings on a RIVERSIDE range from about $2 per tire (on the 29x4.40 RIVERSIDE Balloon) to $5 to $10 on larger sizes. Surely such savings merit your most careful consideration... particularly in view of the fact that when you purchase a RIVERSIDE you are protected by definite guarantees of 16,000 and 30,000 miles of service! No other make of tire in America today, backed by an organization with the responsibility of Montgomery Ward & Co., is sold under such definite mileage guarantees.

Visit our store today and see these RIVERSIDES for yourself. Note their quality construction, low price, iron-clad mileage guarantees... and buy on FACTS, not "talk."
